Take a look at the future of Methodist Health System

Since 1927, Methodist Health System has been dedicated to the health and well-being of the communities of southwest Dallas. In April 2004, the Methodist Health System Board of Directors rededicated that commitment by unanimous approval of a $256.9 million master plan. The plan includes building two new facilities—in Midlothian and Mansfield—as well as renovating our existing campuses.

Methodist Midlothian Health Center

This new medical complex at the intersection of Highway 287 and Walnut Grove will feature a central imaging center offering CT, open MRI, and x-ray, as well as two professional buildings for physicians in several specialties. Methodist looks forward to the center’s planned opening in summer 2005 and to bringing our services closer to the people and families of Midlothian.

Methodist Mansfield Medical Center

Located east of Highway 287 at the corner of Matlock Road and East Broad Street in Mansfield, this $127 million general acute-care hospital and physician office building is scheduled to open in winter 2006. The 80-bed hospital will offer a broad range of diagnostic, primary care, and specialty services, allowing us to offer a fuller range of sophisticated and compassionate medical care to individuals and families in and around Mansfield, south Arlington, south Grand Prairie, Kennedale, Venus, and Midlothian.

Methodist Dallas Medical Center

Methodist Dallas Medical Center is slated to receive updates to outpatient services, a new 100,800-square-foot medical office building, and a 780-space parking garage. Methodist Dallas Medical Center’s expansion and improvements are scheduled to begin in the first quarter of 2005, with completion expected in summer 2008.
