Methodist Charlton—Reaching New Heights

Methodist Charlton Medical Center celebrated a milestone recently with the “topping out” ceremony for its new 6-story, 72-bed patient care tower, which is scheduled for completion in September 2009. The new patient tower is part of an extensive $116 million dollar expansion project for the 254-bed hospital located in Southwest Dallas County.

“The patient care tower is perfectly aligned with our mission to provide compassionate quality care,” says Methodist Charlton President Zach Chandler. “It’s all part of our ongoing investment in enhancing health care services and quality of life in the communities we serve.”

Laura Bush Receives Folsom Award

For her compassionate leadership and selfless service, former First Lady Laura Bush was presented with the 2008 Robert S. Folsom Leadership Award from Methodist Health System. Recipients of the award are selected for their accomplishments in making a lasting, positive change in the Dallas community while inspiring others to follow in their path. A dedicated promoter of women and children’s health, literacy, and education, Mrs. Bush exemplifies the true intent and spirit of the award.

Prostate Screening Reaches 50,000 Men

Methodist Health System’s Prostate Screening Awareness Program (PSAP) hit a landmark number in 2008—screening the 50,000th man through the program that began eight years ago.

Michael Mayo Named Methodist Dallas Medical Center President

A seasoned health care executive who began his career at John Peter Smith Hospital in Fort Worth nearly 25 years ago, Mayo has demonstrated an innate talent for working with staff, physicians, and the community to identify areas for improvement and evolve best practices in both clinical and nonclinical areas of operations. “Michael Mayo is an exceptionally talented leader, who is well respected for his vision and stewardship,” said Methodist Health System President and CEO Stephen L. Mansfield, PhD, FACHE. “He is confident that the focus and energy he brings to this key leadership role will serve Methodist Dallas and the greater community very well at this important time in our history.”

Our Employees Volunteered thousands of hours in 2008 to community projects such as neighborhood cleanup initiatives, elementary school tutoring programs, and Meals on Wheels. We’re renovating houses through the Hearts and Hammers program and helped combat teenage drunken driving through our partnership with MADD.
