Committed to Education

Methodist Mansfield is committed to preparing future doctors and nurses through partnerships with the Mansfield Independent School District, the University of Texas at Arlington and Texas Women’s University. Thanks to our dedicated employees, the Dallas Business Journal named Methodist Mansfield one of the Metroplex’s top ten “Best Places to Work” for the fifth year in a row. Our efforts have also received recognition for our outstanding contributions. Methodist Mansfield was recently selected as a Dallas Business Journal Health Care Honoree, District of Education Systems Champion was named as a Fort Worth Business Press Healthcare Honoree, and Dr Paula McManus was awarded the RWJF Hospital Council Education and Research Foundation Community Service Award for her dedication and community spirit.

Methodist Mansfield is Growing Stronger

After celebrating our second anniversary, Methodist Mansfield Medical Center is expanding to meet the growing needs of our neighbors in Tarrant, Johnson, and Ellis counties. The first phase, which will be completed in spring, will add a 30-bed medical surgical unit on the fourth floor to meet general patient admission and surgical recovery needs and finish out the fifth floor. By fall 2009 the second phase should be finished, expanding the emergency department and doubling the intensive care unit.

“We are thankful that so many members of our community have entrusted Methodist Mansfield with their health,” says Methodist Mansfield Medical Center President Laura Irvine. “And our expansion will allow us to continue to deliver quality clinical services in a patient-centered modern environment of care.”

Award-Winning Health Care

Committed to health care and community service, the Mansfield Chamber of Commerce named Methodist Mansfield 2008 Outstanding Business of the Year, and the Dallas Region Chamber honored us with the 2009 Metropolitan Chamber Award. We have also received other awards and accolades including the joint Commission on Accreditation of Healthcare Organizations Gold Seal of Approval.

Earning Your Trust

According to Press Ganey, a national research firm, Methodist Mansfield has some of the highest patient satisfaction ratings in the country. We are proud that many patients say they definitely recommended Methodist Mansfield Medical Center to any other hospital in the Metroplex.

Recognized for Excellence

Thanks to our dedicated employees, the Dallas Business Journal named Methodist Mansfield the number one health care employer and one of the Metropolitan area’s top five “Best Places to Work” for the fifth year in a row. Our employees have also received recognition for their outstanding contributions. Methodist Mansfield was recently selected as a Dallas Business Journal Health Care Honoree, District of Education Systems Champion was named as a Fort Worth Business Press Healthcare Honoree, and Dr Paula McManus was awarded the RWJF Hospital Council Education and Research Foundation Community Service Award for her dedication and community spirit.

Delivering Community Support

The growing community of Mansfield has showcased the hospital with outstanding support since opening in December 2006. In our second year of operation the generosity of Mansfield supporters is helping to ensure the hospital’s special care and emergency operating rooms are equipped to provide quality care to the area’s newest and most fragile residents. Most recently Methodist Mansfield Auxiliary provided a $15,000 gift to purchase specialized equipment for the operating room and the Mansfield Women’s Club presented a $30,000 gift to purchase equipment for the special care nursery.

Volunteers Serving Others

Our volunteers and auxiliary members contribute thousands of hours by providing important fund-raising and volunteer services including operating the gift shop, staffing the information desk and assisting visitors, patients, and staff.

Methodist Mansfield is committed to preparing future doctors and nurses through partnerships with the Mansfield Independent School District, the University of Texas at Arlington, Texas Women’s University, and the University of Texas at Arlington School of Nursing. From the classrooms to the emergency room, students at Baker Academy have an opportunity to start their health care careers and learn by doing. Students can choose from various health-related courses and then spend their senior year in a rotation at the hospital. The 18-week program provides an excellent opportunity for students to obtain clinical experiences and witness the practical application of health care away from the classrooms, allowing them to make informed career decisions.

Dedicated to Community Wellness

Perpetual healthy eating and bringing awareness to the growing number of young adults who are overeating through mediocrity and poor diet, Methodist Mansfield launched the Coaches’ Weight Loss Challenge, helping high school football coaches start the sports season on a healthy note. Sixteen coaches from all four Mansfield Independent School District high schools competed for 10 weeks and $3,500 in student scholarships to see which schools’ coaching staff would be the biggest losers. Now those 16 Mansfield coaches are collectively 246 pounds lighter, requiring an additional coach to see if their students can achieve the same results.

With a $5,000 grant to the Midlothian Independent School District Foundation and a $500 grant to the Midlothian Independent School District Foundation, Methodist Mansfield is helping future doctors and nurses.
